Next Significant Chance for Rain

Tuesday Evening/Overnight

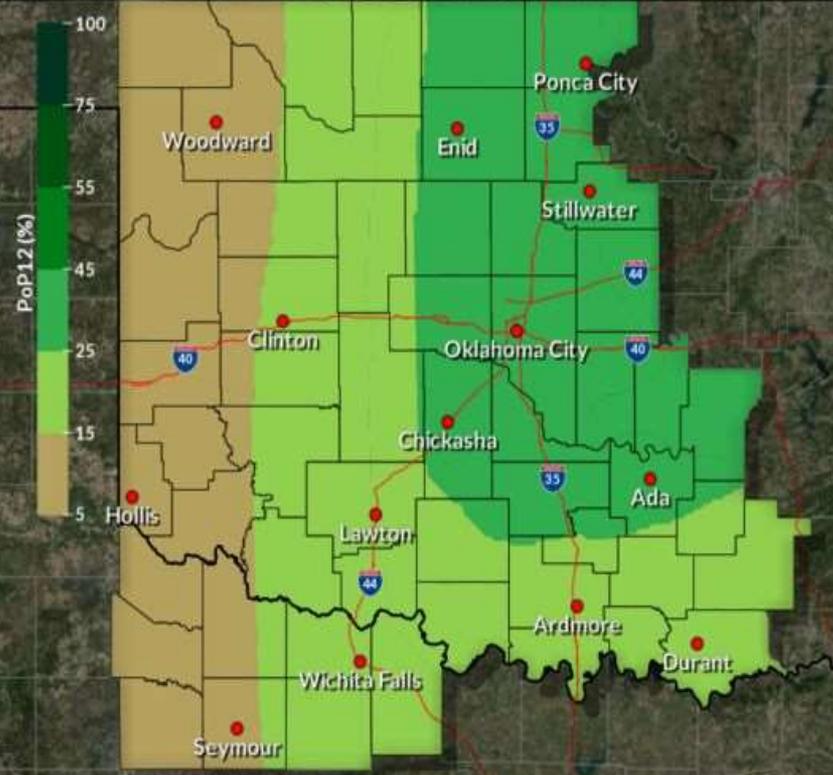

Weather Forecast Office

Norman OK

Issued Sep 28, 2016 3:47 AM CDT

A strong storm system will move out of the Rockies on Tuesday and Wednesday. Details are still unclear, but this will be the next significant chance of showers and thunderstorms.

f t NWSNorman

weather.gov/oun

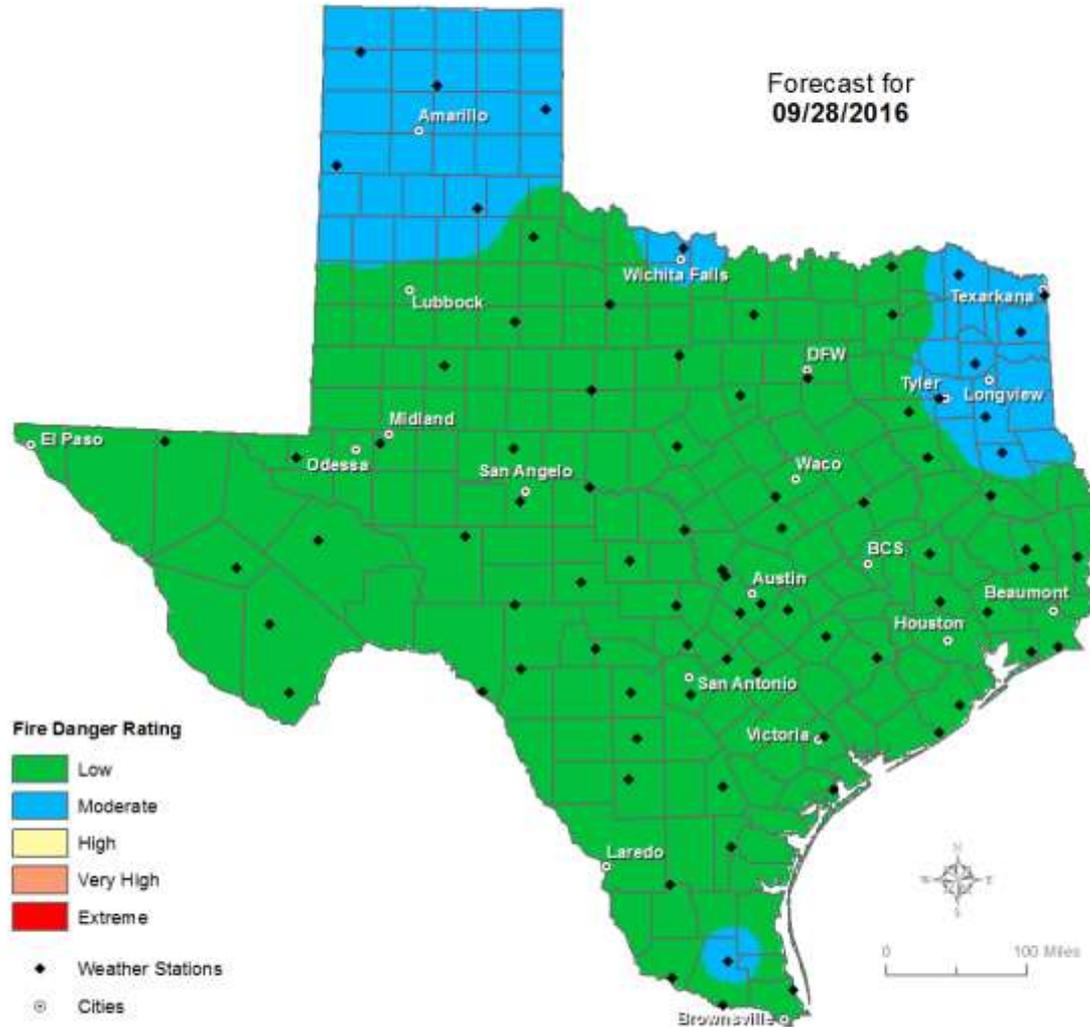

There will be very low chances for showers over the weekend in far northwest Oklahoma, but the next really significant chance for showers/thunderstorms will come on Tuesday, mainly in the evening and overnight. Details are not yet clear (it's still six days away!), but the storm system looks like it will be relatively strong.
