The benefit of NASDEA is to:

1. Foster greater cooperation and coordination between member agencies by:
  - The exchange of information
  - The sharing of ideas and methods for detection and apprehension
  - The development of legislative issues and effective legislation, and
  - The support of parent, civic, and school efforts in drug education
2. To provide a mechanism for state drug enforcement input to federal-level policy, procedures, and operations through:
  - The identification of national drug issues
  - The development of clear and consistent policy for application and enforcement of federal drug control laws,
  - The development of coordination and cooperation with and between federal, state, and local drug enforcement.
3. To provide a forum for state law enforcement and command level personnel operationally involved in drug enforcement to exchange management and information.
