CRIME MEASUREMENTS

Crime affects every Texan in some fashion. To gain a measurement of crime trends, Texas participates in the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program. UCR makes possible the analysis of crime trends primarily through the Crime Index.

The Crime Index

To track the variations in crime, the UCR data collection program uses a statistical summary tool referred to as the Crime Index. Rather than collecting reports of all crimes that were committed in a particular year, UCR collects the reports of seven index crimes. The crimes in this group are all serious, either by their very nature or because of the frequency with which they occur, and present a common enforcement problem to police agencies. Crimes within this index can be further categorized as violent crimes, which include murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault, or as property crimes, which consist of burglary, larceny-theft, and motor vehicle theft. By reducing the overall occurrence of crime to this Crime Index, the annual comparison of crime trends is simplified. Although arson is an index crime in that the number of reported offenses are collected, arson is not a part of the Crime Index.

Offense Estimation

Because a few Texas law enforcement agencies experienced difficulty in finalizing their 2000 crime reports prior to state and national release deadlines, it has been necessary to estimate the number of offenses for these agencies. The methodology for this estimation process has remained the same throughout the Texas UCR program, making it possible to compare crime trends from year to year without the results being skewed by changes in the number of reporting agencies. No attempt, however, is made to estimate for unreported or under-reported crimes. A full discussion of reporting practices and other factors affecting crime trends can be found in Chapter One's section on Crime Factors.

INDEX CRIMES IN TEXAS 1986 – 2000

CRIME TRENDS

Texas crime trends are analyzed using two separate methods: crime volume and crime rates. Crime volume is merely the aggregate sum of the Crime Index. By comparing the crime volume from year to year, trends in the number of crimes committed can be studied. Crime rates, however, are compiled to compensate for changes in the size of Texas' population and to show the number of people affected by crime in a given population. Texas crime rates are generally expressed as the number of crimes per 100,000 residents.

Crime Volume

During calendar year 2000, there was an estimated total of 1,032,670 index offenses in Texas. The crime volume increased 2.3 percent when compared to 1999.

In addition to the above offenses, there were 8,350 cases of arson reported which represented a decrease of 0.6 percent from 1999.

Crime Rates

During calendar year 2000, Texas' crime rate was 4,952.4 crimes per 100,000 persons. The crime rate decreased 1.6 percent from the previous year.

Annual Crime Trends

Monthly crime variations show that, in general, crime occurrences peak in the summer month of July. Individual index crime trend graphs are located in Chapter 3.

TYPE OF CRIME

Crime analysis generally looks at the two categories of crime discussed above: Violent crimes (or crimes against persons) and property crimes. In 2000, 11 percent of the Crime Index was made up of violent crimes and 89 percent were property crimes.

Violent Crime Offenses 1986 - 2000*Violent Crimes

Violent crimes involve the element of personal confrontation between the perpetrator and the victim. Because of their nature, violent crimes are considered to be more serious than property crimes. An estimated 113,605 violent crimes occurred during 2000,—a 1.0 percent increase from 1999. The 2000 violent crime rate was 544.8 crimes per 100,000 Texans—a 2.9 percent decline from the rate posted in 1999.

Type of Crime in Texas*Violent Crime by Offense*Property Crimes

The number of property crimes occurring during 2000 was estimated at 919,065. Property crimes increased 2.5 percent from 1999. Burglary accounted for 21 percent of all property offenses, larceny-theft accounted for 69 percent, and motor vehicle theft accounted for 10 percent. The 2000 property crime rate was 4,407.6 crimes per 100,000 Texans—a decrease of 1.5 percent when compared to the rate for 1999.

Property Crime Offenses 1986 - 2000*Property Crime by Offense

CLEARANCES

For Uniform Crime Reporting purposes, an offense is cleared when a law enforcement agency has identified the offender, enough evidence exists to press charges, and the subject is actually taken into custody. The arrest of one person can clear several crimes or several persons may be arrested in the process of clearing one offense. Law enforcement agencies may clear a crime by exceptional means when some element beyond law enforcement control precludes the placing of formal charges against the offender.

Law enforcement officers cleared 19 percent of all index offenses reported to them in 2000, by arrest or exceptional means. Of the violent crimes reported, 46 percent were cleared while 15 percent of all property crimes were cleared.

The relatively high clearance rate for violent crimes compared to the non-violent property crimes is, in part, attributable to the element of confrontation between the victim and the perpetrator which contributes to identification of the offender.

In 2000, persons arrested under the age of 18 represented 16 percent of all cases solved accounting for 9 percent of all violent crime clearances and 18 percent of property crimes. The involvement rate of persons under 18 years of age was 6 percent for murders, 10 percent for forcible rape, 12 percent for robbery, and 9 percent for aggravated assault. In the non-violent crime categories, this age group accounted for 16 percent of the solved burglaries, 19 percent of the thefts, and 14 percent of the motor vehicle thefts.

TEXAS CRIME CLOCK, 2000

Note: As the most aggregate representation of UCR data, the Crime Clock should be viewed with care. The Crime Clock conveys the relative frequency of Index Crimes. This display does not imply any regularity in the commission of crimes, but rather, the clock represents the annual ratio of crimes to fixed time intervals.

ESTIMATED CRIME IN TEXAS

The offenses in this chart were compiled from reports submitted to the UCR program by Texas law enforcement agencies. Because reporting compliance has varied, it has been necessary to estimate offenses for non-reporting jurisdictions. Previous editions of Crime in Texas have estimated crime in non-reporting jurisdictions based on an average of the reporting agencies in the same population group or by projecting annual totals from agency reports that cover less than 12 months. This same logic is followed here. The term "Rate" refers to the number of crimes per 100,000 population.

CRIME FACTS AT A GLANCE

2000

- There were an estimated 1,032,670 index offenses reported with a 19 percent clearance rate for Texas in 2000.
- The crime rate for the State of Texas was 4,952.4 index offenses for every 100,000 inhabitants.
- During 2000, Texas law enforcement officers made 1,056,988 arrests. Of those arrested, 14 percent were 16 years of age and under.
- The value of stolen property totaled $1,571,195,360.
- The offense of larceny-theft accounted for 62 percent of all index crimes and had a clearance rate of 17 percent.
- Firearms were used in 63 percent of all murders reported. All other weapons made up the remaining 37 percent.
- There were an estimated 74,288 aggravated assaults. Of these, 19 percent were committed by the use of hands, fists, and feet.
- Residential burglaries accounted for 66 percent of all burglaries reported.
- The estimated number of motor vehicle thefts were 93,111, for a total dollar loss of $723,265,574.
- Ten law enforcement officers were feloniously killed in the line of duty. Three were killed in duty-related accidents.
- There were 4,935 assaults on officers reported with 94 percent cleared.
- In 2000, there were 286 hate crime incidents reported with 291 victims, 304 offenders and 305 offenses.
- Family violence incidents totaled 175,282 during 2000. There were 189,615 victims and 185,977 offenders.
