

GOVERNOR'S DIVISION OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Making your emergency evacuation plans

Make plans for keeping in touch with friends and family.

Choose one friend or relative out-of-state – and make sure family members know that phone number. You can call that number to let friends and family members know where you are.

Make plans for your pets and livestock. Include leash and other supplies for your pet in your emergency kit.

When a tropical storm or hurricane appears in the Gulf of Mexico, fill your gas tank and keep monitoring your TV and radio as the storm moves in.

When local officials call for a mandatory evacuation, top off your gas tank before you leave.
