During the 77th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature, Senate Bill 1074 regarding "Racial Profiling" was enacted into statute. The statute requires Texas law enforcement agencies to collect and analyze certain motor vehicle stop data, and to annually submit a report to the governing body of the agency and the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement. According to statute, the data collected as a result of reporting requirements shall not constitute prima facie evidence of racial profiling.

Every Department of Public Safety (DPS) law enforcement vehicle regularly used to make motor vehicle stops is equipped with audio and video recording equipment. DPS Troopers are also issued body worn cameras and are required to record audio and video of every motor vehicle stop using the two recording systems.

DPS supervisors are required to review a minimum of 40 hours of recorded videos of motor vehicle stops per year. In instances where an allegation of racial profiling is made, videos of motor vehicle stops are maintained indefinitely.

In addition to the statutory video review requirements, the Department developed its own method of analyzing enforcement data to identify personnel potentially not adhering to its racial profiling policy. The Department's Early Intervention System (EIS) Related to Traffic Stop Demographics is a forward-thinking process for ensuring the integrity of troopers' actions.

The 2019 report includes the racial/ethnic demographic composition of the Texas population based on the official 2018 Population Estimate reported by the United States Census Bureau in July of 2018.

Race is defined as a socially constructed category of identification based on physical characteristics, ancestry, historical affiliation or shared culture. Ethnicity is defined as an identity with or membership in a particular racial, national, or cultural group, and observance of that group's customs, beliefs and language.

It is worth noting that these two categories are sometimes confused. For instance, White is a category of race, while Hispanic is a category of ethnicity. With this understanding, someone who identifies as Hispanic (ethnicity) may also self-identify with their race (i.e., White). However, statutory requirements related to data collection (Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, Article 2.132) do not include a sole category that reflects both ethnicity and race. Therefore, in the example above, either the ethnicity or the race of the individual must be submitted into the motor vehicle stop database – and either selection (Hispanic or White) would be accurate. DPS practice is to select the category that most accurately and narrowly represents the individual. Each individual has an opportunity to object to or correct the category selected when they sign the citation or warning during a motor vehicle stop.

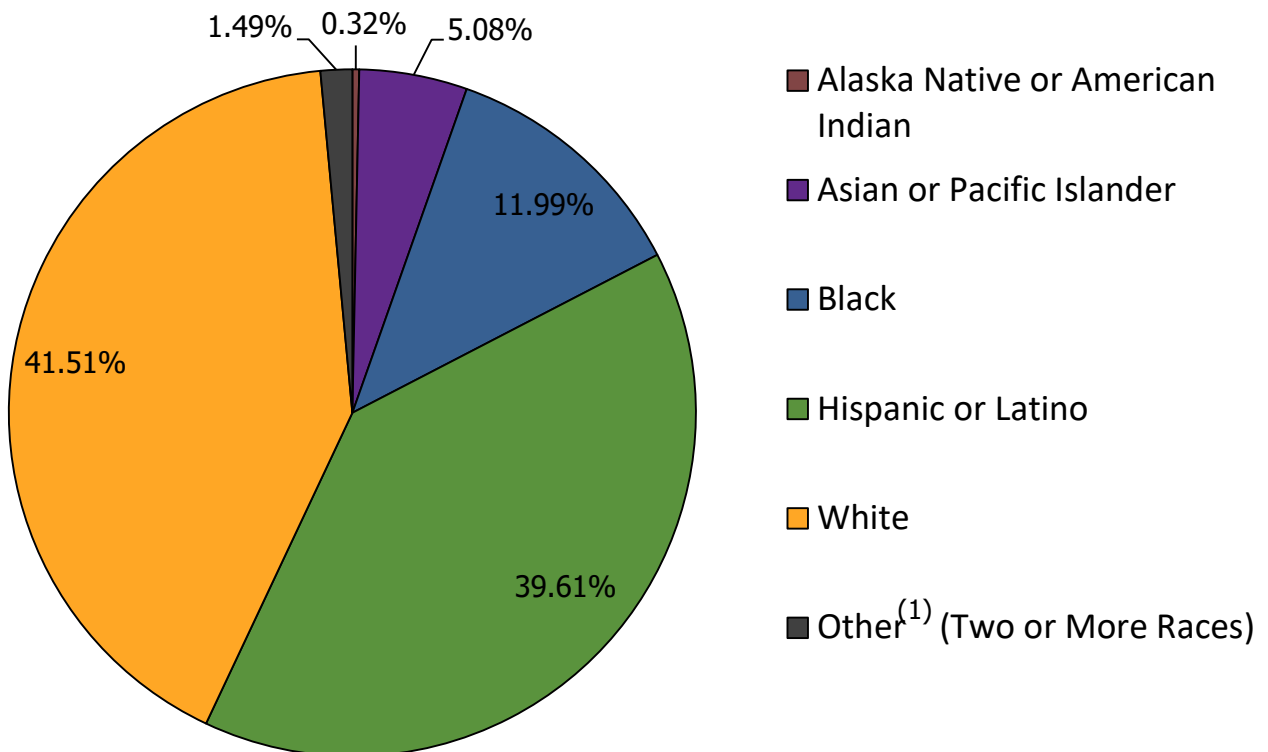

DPS remains unwavering in its commitment to the prevention of racial profiling as well as any perception that it exists – because both undermine the public's trust. All allegations of racial profiling are immediately and thoroughly investigated by the DPS Office of Inspector General (OIG). Anyone who believes they have been the victim of racial profiling or otherwise treated unprofessionally should immediately report it to the OIG. DPS also includes information about how to contact the OIG on all citations, warnings and commercial vehicle inspection reports as well as its website.
